Terrestrials

Mid-summer you'll often find me throwing hoppers on a windy day right against grassy banks on a Montana River. Sometimes the takes are subtle, like sipping a spinner on the surface, and sometimes the fish will smash the fly. I tie a variety of terrestrial patterns from traditional hoppers, to foam patterns to imitate the so-called "Goodyear Rubber Hatch"! If you don't see a particular pattern you're interested in, please ask. I'm sure I can tie it for you!
